

“Non-Building Efforts”

Inventory of commercial kitchens for small producers to use

“Values”

Organic

Community minded

Regime and education around cleanliness

Expectations for each activity

Connecting farmers, producers and market

Explore concerns around competing with existing businesses

“Structure”

Hot kitchen, cold kitchen, storage, prep, layout of elements is important

Co-mingling of products – gluten free, organic

Food safety efforts

Proprietary codes

Organic protocols

Kitchen in the Round

“Success Factors”

Constant outreach for new users

Existing and certified workers for producers

Need bread and butter

“Commercial Kitchen”

Need to clarify “commercial” vs. “community” kitchen

Steady financial income

What sources of base income can be created to regularly pay the bills? Provide gourmet, social, senior meals (gov’t funding, connect with farm excess)

Co-packing

Value added processing for farmers

Connections with school cafeterias (public and private, care centers, hospitals, jails

Providing goods to businesses – hotels etc.

Community meals – meal coupons for employees of businesses, organic dining room/restaurant

Food entrepreneurs (400 potential uses/month from survey)

Producing organic food products to sell to restaurants

Culinary school

Training venue JEDI COS

Start with a strong nucleus

“Parking Lot”

National Restaurant Associations connecting with high like in Redding

House the inspectors!

Talk with inspectors as designing bldg.

Satellite kitchens? Specialties or just community based?

Teens cooking classes in Petaluma anchor for project (Petaluma nutritionist Angelica Martin is leading a Kids

Can Cook camp on July 22-25 and Aug. 12-15 at the Petaluma Community Center.)

“Food Forward”

Who are “we”? role(s) of the meeting attendees and roles of GNS and JEDI

Note potential with drive by market of 10 – 14K travelers passing through South County every day

National Food Lab in SF – started small like this group

Ask EDC for lessons learned

No dishwasher in hot kitchen